

WONDER DAILY

From marks to a morning.

Quiet marks

Little Wonderer leans toward a soft screen. The marks are neat, not scribbles. "Are they a secret?" Big Wonderer waits.

Jobs in order

On the notebook, three jobs sit in a line: first, next, then last. That careful order is a sequence.

Make a little book

1 Fold it into 8 boxes. Open it flat.

2 Fold short end to short end. Cut the thick line. Open it.

3 Fold the long way, pictures out. Push the ends in.

4 Fold into a book. Page 1 goes on the front!

Each job runs

A quiet helper follows job one, then job two, then job three. A line lands. A wash of color follows. A word settles into place.

A page appears

Left: a blank page. Right: a picture and a short sentence. That difference is evidence the jobs worked.

Marks mean a lesson

Little returns to the first screen of marks. Beside it rests a finished morning sheet — a lesson ready to use.

Keep one question

The lesson is here: words, a picture, a puzzle to try. Code became a daily morning.